HELPFUL CYBER SECURITY WEB SITES

Additional resources that may aid you in handling IT incidents can be found at the following web sites:

Carnegie Mellon's CERT Coordination Center: Provides guidelines for Internet security and incident response. Links to other security web sites are also included.	www.cert.org
U.S. Department of Energy Computer Incident Advisory Center (CIAC): Lists CIAC bulletin releases and links to security articles, guidelines, and technology sites.	www.ciac.org/ciac/
U.S. Department of Defense Computer Emergency Response Team (DOD-CERT): Provides information on antivirus software and downloads along with security tools and technical implementation guides.	www.cert.mil
Australian Computer Emergency Response Team (AUSCERT): Provides security bulletins and security documents. Also provides prevention, response, and mitigation strategies for its members.	www.auscert.org.au
Security Focus: Resources and articles on incidents, viruses, and basic security essentials. Provides mailing lists for security professionals on incidents, forensics, and vulnerabilities	www.securityfocus.com
U.S. Navy INFOSEC Information Service: Provides training resource, antivirus tools, information on PKI, tech support, COMPUSEC tools, and INFOSEC products and services.	https://infosec.navy.mil/ps/?t=main/main.tag&bc=main/bc_main.html
U.S. Department of Justice Computer Crime and Intellectual Property Section (CCIPS): Information on searching and seizing computers. Also includes information on other related electronic evidence issues.	www.usdoj.gov/criminal/cybercrime/searching.html
SANS Institute: Provides articles on incident handling and forensics. Also includes information on incident handling training.	www.sans.org/rr/catindex.php?cat_id=27